

The Child Brain Injury Rehabilitation Service is the UK's leading case management service dedicated exclusively to supporting children and their families through the rehabilitation process following an acquired brain injury. Our team of experienced paediatric brain injury case managers specialise in assessing children and young people before creating comprehensive care plans and rehabilitation pathways that connect the right expertise with their specific needs.

As specialists in child brain injury case management, we are perfectly placed to understand the specific needs of managing the rehabilitation of children and young people following an acquired brain injury. Our professional case managers have strong clinical skills gained from working in their specialist field within the NHS and the community. They have an in-depth knowledge of managing rehabilitation that requires complex care.

We are passionate about the individual needs of every child we support and take care to ensure a case manager with the right expertise is assigned to each child and their family. You can be assured that our case managers will always provide the highest standards of care and support.

- Complete a thorough assessment of a child or young person following a brain injury to understand their complex needs
- Plan the rehabilitation needed, ensuring it involves all aspects of the child's life both today and in the future
- Work with Bush & Co's CQC registered care service and accredited care delivery support service for those families who wish to recruit their own support staff when required
- Collaborate with any legal and insurance professionals and other service providers involved, to safeguard additional support if necessary
- Monitor and evaluate the rehabilitation, services, and support

Our case managers

Our case managers are hand-picked by our clinical management team of nurses, social workers and physiotherapists based on their extensive NHS and community experience working with children following Acquired Brain Injury; along with their deep understanding of additional physical, psychological and social challenges paediatric clients may face during rehabilitation. This can include:

Behaviour

Care Packages

Family Support

Grief and PTSD

Hospital Discharge

Home Adaptation

Mental Health

Safeguarding

SEN/Education

Sensory Needs

Transition Phases

They are trained and supported through a clinical and case management mentorship programme, case guidance, clinical audits, peer networking and a full programme of CPD including the latest therapies and interventions, risk and safeguarding, working in the medico-legal sector and so on.

A service that gives more

In 2018, Bush & Co and the Child Brain Injury Trust joined forces to provide dedicated case management and rehabilitation services through the formation of the Child Brain Injury Rehabilitation Service; the UK's leading case management service focusing solely on childhood brain injury. As well as providing a high quality service, the Child Brain Injury Rehabilitation Service helps the Child Brain Injury Trust to support all children, young people and families needing their help and guidance; regardless of how the injury was sustained.

This means that the Child Brain Injury Trust receives vital funding when you chose to work with us, at no additional cost or impact to you and your client.
